. . . OHIO UNIVERSITY, OLDEST UNIVERSITY WEST OF THE ALLEGHENIES, HELPS TO CELEBRATE THE SESQUI-CENTENNIAL OF THE NORTHWEST TERRITORY.

The development of the Northwest Territory has been paralleled by the growth of Ohio University, the first institution of higher education in the Territory. On every hand can be seen landmarks which depict an added chapter in the history of its development. The tower of 121-year old Cutler Hall, the oldest college building in the Northwest Territory, has won a worm spot in the heart of every student in the history of Ohio University. Through the portals of the gateway presented by the Class of 1912 have passed countless students to and from class. The students passing Cutler Hall and Fine Arts Auditorium on their way from Ellis Hall to the Edwin Watts Chubb Library have before their eyes a panorama of the 150 years of progress at Ohio University.

Confetti adds to the spirit of the Sig Carnival, while the more dignified Press Cotillion brings another queen to the foreground

Part of the crowd which witnessed Ohio University's opening football game last fall, is seen in the upper photo eagerly watching the move of the two teams on the field. The Babcats started the season off right by steamrolling over small Rio Grande College to the tune of an 80-0 score. In the picture at the right, several students are shown taking time out for lunch at the half time of the Ohio U -Ohio Wesleyan football game played on Dad's Day

This was the play in which Len Joniak (carrying the ball), star Ohio halfback, broke his leg and was lost to the Bobcats for the remainder of the season.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ORIGINALITY DEMANDED

Sir:

Originality in a college annual is unusual. When LIFE magazine was chosen as the theme for the 1938 ATHENA, it was a step in the right direction, away from the stereotyped forms snatched from the files of previous years. Now all you have to do is create an ATHENA motif that LIFE will copy.

HAROLD SAMUELS

99 OUT OF 100

Sir:

I am looking forward eagerly to the forthcoming issue of the ATHENA, as I understand you are presenting candid studies of every faculty member at Ohio University. Has this ever been done before?

TED BUCZK

Until the 1938 ATHENA, individual pictures of faculty members were not used. The 1938 ATHENA was successful in photographing candidly and informally every member of the faculty with one exception. See page 25.

—Editor.

LESS NOISE, PLEASE

Sir:

During the past few weeks several inmates of the Men's Union have come to me complaining of the noises that came from the ATHENA office late at night. They report that typewriters are clicking by the hour, water runs continuously, radio is too loud—in general, there is too much activity in the office when civilized people should be in bed. I trust that you will take care of this matter so that the house members may get some sleep.

CARL MALLOW

Men's Union

NEW ENGLANDER COMMENTS

Sir:

A friend of mine who is a student at Ohio University writes that the theme of this year's ATHENA will be built around LIFE magazine. I am indeed sorry to hear this, for I thought you would use as a theme the Sesqui-Centennial Celebration of the Northwest Territory. As you probably know, the group that retraced the steps of the pioneers started out from Ipswich, Massachusetts, a city in my home state. However, in view of the fact that the pioneer train is coming through Athens, we are looking forward to seeing several photographs relating to the expedition in the book.

RACHEL FLETCHER

Chicopee, Massachusetts

Serious consideration was given to the use of the Sesqui-Centennial as a theme. However, we felt that the LIFE theme had more possibilities.—Editor.

WANTS SPOTLESS BOOK

Sirs:

If I remember correctly, a few years ago the ATHENA published several "spicy" pictures in the fraternity and sorority sections. These photographs were met with disapproval by many of the readers including yours truly. Please give us an A-1, spotless yearbook.

DOROTHY GLAZIER

PAGING MR. COOPER

Dear Sir:

The 1938 ATHENA is to be commended for the method used in making this year's beauty selections. It is without a doubt much fairer than the contests of previous years, when retouched photographs were sent to Hollywood where the third secretary of some screen star made the selections.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE AN ENIGMA TO INCOMING FRESHMEN

PEN, PATIENCE AND A POCKETBOOK ARE THE REQUISITES FOR REGISTRATION

Lacking what the University officials feel to be adequate academic preparation, freshmen are often required to take subjects which will give them the proper background for University work. Art students, for example, are puzzled when required to spend a semester in the Chemistry Department.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Oldest of the seven colleges of Ohio University is the College of Arts and Sciences. Comprising fifteen departments of the university and with a teaching staff of seventy-seven members (one-half of those in the University) this college has enrolled in its ranks 25% of the upper classmen. Said Dean Gomersfelder in commenting upon its aims and objectives, "The College of Arts and Sciences aims primarily to offer opportunities for what is commonly called a liberal education in contrast with professional or vocational training provided by other colleges." Phi Beta Kappa, highest of scholastic honoraries, demands that 80% of the prospective member's studies be pursued in this college.

THE COLLEGE OF COMMERCE

The College of Commerce became a co-ordinate division of the University in July, 1936. (Before that date it was a School within the College of Arts and Sciences). Since then it has had a phenomenal growth. Enrollment has doubled; the faculty has increased; courses offering enriched and new fields of study have been opened. Fields of specialization available in connection with the B.S. in Commerce degree now include: Accounting, Advertising, Business Law, Banking, Economics, Finance, Foreign Trade, Labor Relations, Marketing, Management, Public Utilities, Statistics, and Transportation. A special curriculum leads to the degree of B.S. in Secretarial Studies. The College of Commerce uses freely the facilities of other divisions of the University and in turn works closely with them. It co-operates with the College of Applied Science to make possible a curriculum in Industrial Engineering. Economics is a popular major among those seeking the A.B. degree in the College of Arts and Sciences, and Commerce majors comprise the largest single group among the Education students preparing to teach in high schools.

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

At Ohio University, actual participation in the production of a newspaper is a part of a student's undergraduate life. Arrangements with the publishers of "The Athen's Messenger", a daily newspaper with a circulation of 14,000, make possible the use of their modern, specially designed and equipped plant as a laboratory for students in reporting, copy-reading and page make-up. Workers are trained for all the editorial and business departments of a newspaper. Ohio U. is the only school in Ohio that offers such opportunities in either editorial or business activities.

THE COLLEGE OF FINE ARTS

Because the objective of this college is to give its students an opportunity to study all the fine arts, complete courses in architecture and photography have been added this year. These new courses have created much interest among the students. Fine arts week was observed during April. Plays, concerts and exhibitions were featured. A photographic exhibit depicting the work done in the college was circulated to a selected group of high schools in this territory.

THE COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

"How many good and clean wits of children be now-a-days perished by ignorant school masters." So said Sir Thomas Elyot about four hundred years ago. But those were the days when school masters were not prepared to teach! They had learned some subject matter and, using the knowledge as a material thing, were driving it as a nail into the skulls of children by using a hammer of drill! The College of Education in Ohio University believes in teacher preparation that will give to its graduates knowledge and skills that will enable them to help children develop their abilities and aptitudes in such a way as to preserve and nurture their powers. Opportunities are given for this in all phases of work with little children and youth. Expert teaching will preserve wits rather than destroy them! Preparation for teaching is offered by the College of Education to those who may wish to teach in any of the grades in the elementary schools, in any of the subjects in high school, or in the so-called special subjects of art, commerce, industrial arts, home economics, music, and physical and health education.

PROGRESSIVE EDUCATION

The Rufus Putnam Training School presents one of the unique educational training grounds in America. Under the directorship of E. A. Hansen, the school provides laboratory opportunities for student teachers. Here they receive a practical and thorough taste of teaching before being ushered out into the elementary and secondary state educational institutions. A large staff of supervising critics, each having adequate preparation including at least a master's degree, offer constructive criticism to the prospective teachers.

THE COLLEGE OF APPLIED SCIENCE

This college, one of the newer rapidly growing units of the University, is primarily concerned with the education of students in the fundamentals of science and their practical application. The agriculturist, the engineer, and the home economist are therefore concerned with the design, construction, use, and maintenance of farms and agricultural units, public works and manufacturing plants and the products of both, for home and family life. Graduates from the college enter a multitude of professions and industries and eventually reach administrative positions.

MILITARY SCIENCE AND TACTICS

Despite the predictions given in the widely read article "Guns over Ohio," which doomed the future enrollment of Ohio University, it is interesting to note that registration in September, 1937, reached an all-time high. Realizing the peacetime benefits of military training, 231 men enrolled in the corps this year for well-rounded courses covering such useful material as military history and policy, sanitation and first aid, organization and discipline, courtesy, leadership and drill, and military map reading. Favorable comments have been heard around the campus as a result of the corps' efficient management of ushering at football and basketball games. The ideals of the unit may be summed up in Colonel McNeill's quotation from Lord Chesterfield, "Manners must adorn knowledge and smooth its way through the world; manners must adorn knowledge, if that knowledge is to shine in the world."

One of the most colorful dances ever to hit the Ohio University campus was the first Military Ball, sponsored by the R.O.T.C., under the direction of Major M. E. Olmstead and his committee. A floor show including the Trooping of the Colors, and a rifle drill by Pershing Rifles thrilled the uniformed spectators and their friends. Favors of miniature crossed rifles, emblematic of the Infantry Corps, help to carry out the military motif. The success of the dance may be indicated by the fact that a committee under the chairmanship of Codet-Captain Arthur DeLuco is already working on next year's ball.

ATHENA EXPOSES: CHOICE COLLEGE CRIBBING CAPRICES

The coed's reticule often affords space for a crib despite being crowded by compact, aspirin, playing cards, extra hose, etc.

A flip of the wrist makes available information concealed in back of blue book—if hand is quicker than professor's eye.

And here's a neat way to be completely en-girdled by information, but don't try it with a loosely knit sweater.

Two match sticks and a long strip of paper make an ideal scroll which can be operated in the palm of the hand.

The "clock-watcher" can make use of adhesive tape bound on the wrist to give him something up the sleeve.

Having an educated toe doesn't always refer to football. Many students get through an examination by fast foot-work.

ATHENA EDITORIAL STAFF

To depict college life on the Ohio U. campus and simultaneously copy LIFE Magazine from cover to cover has been the aim of the 1938 ATHENA staff. To this end the entire staff worked in unison with Editor Abdo shown in the upper right hand corner. Photo to the left is of the Art Staff, with artists K. Hopfinger, J. Andrews, R. Rothermel, Art Editor, and J. Cannelly preparing copy for the engravers. Selecting some of the better photographs are B. Fralich, associate editor, H. Walchanok, photography editor, and F. Wehr, assistant editor. W. Benkert, sports editor, center photo, is reviewing the work of his subordinates R. Connelly, M. Robertson, W. Luthy, J. Wiegman, feature editor, O. DeVoll, and G. Gilbert. Literary editor Art Sherman (pencil in hand) explains the style sheet to typists E. Wilson, V. Brooks, H. Halcomb, E. J. Palmer, R. Dixon, and J. Johnston. R. Young, corresponding secretary, L. J. Spanseller, associate editor, and L. Chabaudy are shown in the lower right photograph.

ATHENA BUSINESS STAFF

To take care of the many business details, such as soliciting for advertisements, selling books, and keeping the books straight on a yearbook the size of the ATHENA, requires a large business staff. In the circle William Cooper, business manager, scans a column of figures. At the upper left you see him at work instructing his staff members, C. Martindill, H. Wells, J. Cuthbert, J. Simmons, E. Barbour, B. Miller, E. Smith, and B. Stilgenbauer, in the correct method of bookkeeping. On the right John Beicher, advertising manager, listens to the reports of G. Fester, M. Schoeffler, D. Evans, L. Wise, D. Yenney, and B. Worstall, who have just returned from soliciting ads. R. Daugherty, J. McVey, and J. Lawmiller, at left center, polish up their sales talks before interviewing prospective customers. At the right J. Pfahler and B. Jamison look through the files to check an account. At the lower left J. Heslop, R. Howard, J. Murphy, I. Marton, J. Conner, and Ann Wagner get a preview glimpse of the "dummy". "Should we ask Beicher what to do, or figure this out for ourselves?" puzzle R. Main, V. Covert, B. Hooper, C. Backus, and E. Shaw, at the right.

GREEN AND WHITE EDITORIAL STAFF

"All the news that's fit to print," is the motto of the GREEN AND WHITE, official student publication at Ohio University. To this end the editorial staff of the paper endeavors to get all the campus news. In the upper left-hand corner, Daniel Wertman, editor, checks some copy for the next issue. The photograph to his right shows the editorial staff at work. The men sitting at the desk are: R. Wertman, R. Jolly, H. Burstein, J. Wiegman, feature writers; P. Day, news editor, and D. Cornelius, society reporter. Standing are E. Maneggie, R. Lindsey, and R. McHale, reporters, while E. Haller takes a story over the phone. The photograph below Editor Wertman shows G. Johnson, J. McKinven, and F. Shackleton listening to Associate Editor R. Reider tell a newspaper yarn of his earlier college days. Opposite, we find standing I. Black, T. Barry, H. Kahn, M. Fishkin, and W. Benkert of the Sports Department, with A. Egen, H. Samuels, sports editor, and A. Demmy sitting. In the third picture from the top are B. Bair, W. Dunlea, L. Cassidy, and M. McKittrick getting instructions concerning copy from Associate Editor F. Lauden.

GREEN AND WHITE BUSINESS STAFF

The success or failure of any newspaper is due largely to the operations of the business staff on that paper. This year's business staff of the GREEN AND WHITE has been extremely successful in that it has succeeded not only in making up a fairly large debt unfortunately accrued by the paper last year, but also has been able to make money for the GREEN AND WHITE this year. The credit for this must go to the efficient management of F. Kessler, business manager of Ohio University's official student publication, and his small, but cooperative staff. Kessler is shown in the circle as he looks up from his books for a minute to pose for the ATHENA cameraman. To his left W. Bates, circulation manager, is shown reading an article to C. Dahleiden, secretary, and A. Pilliad, staff member. Below them is shown M. Hull, C. Hayes, and R. Hall of the advertising department. The bottom right-hand photograph shows R. Evans, R. Connelly, and M. Givertz, also members of the advertising department of the paper.

OHIOAN EDITORIAL STAFF

Striving to have themselves removed from the probation ranks, upon which they were placed last year, the editorial staff of the OHIOAN, Ohio University's monthly humor magazine, has presented to the students this year a completely revised publication, featuring more pictures and a better quality of news and views of campus life. Homer Hacker, hard-working editor of this magazine is shown with his camera in the right-hand circle. In the top photo is seen R. Barber, P. Day, B. Llayd, J. Eakin, and W. Merkel preparing some copy for the next issue. Shown looking over some advance material in the picture immediately below is M. Silver, J. Sievers, A. Fay, G. Dickerson, and T. Kamp. In the left-hand circle, R. Dean, G. Robbins, and A. Wagner are seen looking over one of the recent copies of the popular campus magazine

OHIOAN BUSINESS STAFF

As is true of the business department of any magazine, the OHIOAN business staff is no exception in regard to the amount of responsibility which it bears in the financial set-up of the publication. Ted Roll, who is the efficient business manager of the OHIOAN, is shown looking over the latest issue of the magazine in the lower circle. In the picture at the left, J. Pry, M. West, B. Enyeart, and E. Byrd are discussing the advertising campaign to be followed. At the right is seen W. Pike, P. Kerr, P. Parkinson, and B. Compton figuring up the amount of advertising. C. Jablonski, R. Darr, and L. McDanold are shown discussing current circulation. R. Snyder, D. Yenney, J. Murphy, J. Mackinnon, and J. Pfhaler are figures in the center photo, while in the right-hand lower photo, seen discussing the advertising policy.

PLAY OF THE YEAR

Stage Door

The Ohio University Theatre's production of Stage Door, March 16 and 17, broke all previous attendance records with the S.R.O. posted both nights. Margaret McCorrell in the exciting lead role of Terry Randall gave the play freshness and spontaneity in a professional manner. Under the direction of Dr. R. G. Dawes, the cast of 30 made the most of the clever Ferber-Kaufman dialogue to turn out the best received play produced on this campus in many years.

"Now that I am Queen, I wish in future to have a bed and a room of my own," says Terry (Margaret McCorrell) after she has received her starring role.

In the parlor of the Footlights Club the girls thrill as Terry tells how she conquered a producer to finally land a bit part.

Jeon Maitland (Beatrice Steiner) is horrified by Terry's frankness when she meets David Kingsley (Jack Swanson), a big Hollywood producer.

Terry argues with Keith Burgess (Bud Mittlemon), a radical, young playwright. A brief and stormy romance follows.

Terry defends her beloved Broadway to the disgust of Jeon, who has signed a picture contract. Terry: "You can have your Hollywood with its little ermine swimming pools up to here!"

Mrs. Orcutt (Marilyn Francis), landlady of the Footlights Club, introduces Kaye Hamilton (Katherine Condit) who is to be Terry's roommate.

Dr. Randall braves the dangers of New York to visit his daughter and meet Keith, who is also "going Hollywood".

Kaye, who has just lost her part in a play, looks into an empty future and determines to end her tragic life.

Terry, after Kaye's suicide: "She was just a girl without a job—it might have been any one of us."

Jeon, now a screen star, returns to do a stage play and visits the old club for publicity shots. Terry is clerking at Macy's but she still believes in the stage.

Kingsley, who has remained Terry's staunch friend, buys Jeon's play from her producer to give Terry the leading role she has so long awaited.

PUBLICATIONS' BOARD

Set up two years ago as a sub-committee of the Campus Affairs Committee, the Publications' Board has eradicated many of the evils connected with the selection of University publication student executives. Composed of three faculty members and two students, and chairmoned by Professor George Starr Lasher, head of the School of Journalism, this committee has taken much of the grief and most of the graft out of the periodicals.

G. S. Lasher, N. R. Buchan,
C. Williams, Cooper, Crouch

MEN'S SELECTION BOARD

When the time rolls around for choosing the male student leaders of some of the various campus organizations, the aspiring men must file applications and present themselves before the Men's Selection Board. The Board is made up of five senior students and two faculty members. The process of selection has proved to be a desirable one, for the capabilities of the prospective leaders are minutely scrutinized and dissected by a group which is able to recognize talents lying dormant in each one of them.

CAMPUS AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

Immediately interested in the Student Lounge proposed by a committee of several upper-classmen, The Campus Affairs Committee, administrators of all extra-curricular student activities, allotted $1000 to get the project under way. The lounge committee hopes to raise an additional $1000 as a financial start for this "Temptation for Idlers." Campus affairs are now so well controlled that promoters of donces realize little profit. One promoter even goes so far as to say, "There's no cash in the game anymore."

WOMEN'S LEAGUE SENATE

The problem of having a place to hang one's hat is solved for the University women by the Women's League Senate. Meeting once a month for twenty-five cent suppers at the University Grill, these boosters for "League-consciousness" plan everything from women's housing to Varsity Dances. Exemplifying their continual contribution to the University was the League's donation of fifty percent of the proceeds of the year's first Varsity Dance to the Student Lounge Fund.

MEN'S UNION

A hangout for all men students was the objective of Men's Union President, Carl Mallow, when he took over the reins of office early last spring. Although handicapped by a limited budget (this is the cry of every campus organization), the officers managed to purchase new furniture for the lounging rooms, new tubes for the $200.00 radio, and additional equipment for the recreation rooms. Open houses sponsored by the Union have added considerably to the social life of the Independents.

Mallow, Bertke, Newman, Rinta

WOMEN'S SELECTION BOARD

Standing in the limelight with the distinction of being well-known, and of having personality plus, is this group of women. They have the honor of selecting the officers for the Women's League, Y.W.C.A., and the W.A.A. Their interests are the interests of the whole campus because the selections they make determine the extent of the work that is done by these organizations. These women have as their adviser Dean Voigt, who is recognized the country over for her leadership in women's activities.

Reeser, Thomas, Galdsmith, Bingham, M. L. Field, Cokonougher, Dean Voigt

MEN'S ACTIVITY BOARD

Freshmen (Male Specie) arriving at Ohio U. in the fall soon were made to feel at home when the Men's Activity Board was at hand with the Freshman smoker. Then to swing the campus into action socially, they gave the Registration Hop. During the second semester, spooks and mysterious doings with Benjamin Franklin IV, at the helm furnished chills for the audience and funds for the Student Lounge. The Men's Activity Board also sponsored the Rodeo given at the Men's Gym.

STANDING: Nye, Dunn, Holden, Owens, Davis, Gilbert, Levitsky

CRESSET

Bearing the torch for scholarship, activities, and personality, the Creset girls are known by their one appearance at the reception given in September for all new women students. These super-beings sponsor and recognize high scholarship among freshman co-eds, and maintain a mild interest in all worthwhile campus activities. Calls to this select group are issued on Award's Day. It is the fond hope of the members that they will soon drop the torch of localism to wave the national banner of Martar Board.

Hill, Cooper

TORCH

Ranking as the highest of campus organizations, Torch, senior men's honorary, selects its members from among those students who have been outstanding in such campus activities as athletics and journalism, and who have maintained a satisfactory scholastic average. Probably every senior man attends the convocation featuring the unique torch "tapping" ceremony with the secret hope that he will be one of the few new brothers searched for and brought out from the audience. This year Torch celebrates its twenty-fifth year of existence on the campus.

Main, Rinta, Jurkovic, Newman, Crauch, Meister, Hood, Abdoo

J CLUB

On the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month, members of the Junior Class who have shown themselves outstanding in activity organizations are inducted into the honorary "J" Club beneath the eleven McGuffey elms located on the campus. Selections for membership are made each year on Homecoming Day. "J" Club gives annually a scholarship key to the junior man with the highest average for five semesters at Ohio University.

May, Ryan, Rich, Wertman, Hacker, Navarre, Beicher, White, Bates, Bryan, Reider

PHOENIX

If this spring, the streets of Athens are adorned with a group of co-eds clothed chiefly in lounging attire, with make-up lacking, and hair stringing down, it will be nothing new to the citizens of this city. It will probably be members and initiates of Phoenix, the junior women's scholarship and activity honorary society, whose custom it is to top the selected women by yelling rhymes in their praise and take them, as they are found, out to midnight supper.

Mitchell, Faulstich, Seeger, Van Orsdell, White, Strous, Taylor, DeRolph, E. A. Prentice

PERSHING RIFLES

With strainers and pink ribbons as head pieces and old pajamas as leg wrapping, the campaigning Pershing Rifles' pledges trekked through Athens and surrounding rural territory accompanied by a few of the actives and their girl friends. It was these riflemen who sponsored Ohio U's initial Military Ball, one of the most spectacular affairs to hit the campus. Pershing Rifles (named after the great general) dates back to 1894, twenty years before the World War.

KNEELING: Golloway, Maxwell, Mossman, Lietwiler, Baldy, Talbott, McNeer, Van Orne, Besuden, Broz, Bush. STANDING: Haehnlen, DeLuca, Foster, Engle, Sauers, Hower, Benkert, Marvin, Penick, Lipka, West, Osborne, Pyers, Jones

BLUE KEY

An outstanding campus and fraternity life and a high scholastic standing are the prime requisites of these distinguished men. Meeting at the Hotel Berry last fall, this group was determined to make Dad's Day significant on the Ohio Campus. Freshmen are well oriented before the upper-classmen arrive in the fall as a result of the fine work of these men, who often step from their role as honored men to serve other campus organizations.

SITTING: West, Main, Wertman, Crouch, Bertke, Cooper, Blair, Newman, Grill. STANDING: Holden, Tauhey, Jurkovic, Bryan, Westhafer, Julian, Cohen

UNIVERSITY CHOIR

The university vested choir's work of the first semester was very uneventful. The group, limited to forty members, met three times each week under the direction of Mr. C. C. Rabinsan, to practice sacred and secular songs and negro spirituals. Their first appearance after the Christmas program was the Spring Concert in March. Part of their varied program was sung a cappella. Particularly enjoyed by the group were several out-of-town trips.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

Prime requisites for membership in the Women's Glee Club are the possession of a falsetto and the ability to carry a tune. Any prospective member should be prepared to sing "Old Black Joe", the perpetual tryout number, and to appear in formal dress several times yearly for the concerts and picture taking. Although many carry the activity for sheer enjoyment, it may be converted into an hour of credit.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

During rehearsals, the members of the Men's Glee Club—especially those sitting in the back row away from Director Peterson—have a good time. While waiting for Mr. Peterson to arrive for the semi-weekly practice sessions, the more talented men usually get together for a little swing session—two on each piano, two at the console and scattered here and there, a few others who furnish rhythm. A very unharmonious rendition of "Chap Sticks" is the result. During concerts, however, the group is known for its even blending of chords and careful interpretation of the repertoire.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Heading the list for work, personality, and fun-making are the members of W.A.A. who are among the first to help the incoming freshmen. At their annual get-together, the girls become acquainted and are advised on various phases of college life. The Homecoming Carnival, in which all sororities are invited to take part, is sponsored by the W.A.A. These sports lovers sponsor hay rides, basketball tournaments, fencing teams, swimming meets, and rifle teams. Their one pride is their cabin where many of their meetings are held.

FIRST ROW: Perrin, Stirzaker, Seelbach, Scherzer, Graham, Harrold, Beaver.

UNIVERSITY BAND

The early birds were the band members when they had to rise in time to catch the four o'clock bus to Cleveland for the Ohio University-Western Reserve football game. Upon arrival they marched from Euclid Avenue to East Seventeenth Street. Before the game a welcoming formation was held, and during the half their excellent performance thrilled the spectators. At Athens, they won the prize awarded the best musical organization participating in the Community Chest parade. Band sponsor for this year is Alva Brudwick.

VARSITY "O"

A most colorful sight at Ohio University is the burning of the huge varsity "O" on North Hill the night preceding the annual Dad's Day celebration. The Varsity "O" Association hopes to make this event, started this year, a yearly traditional affair. Another high light of this organization, composed of varsity letter winners in one of the four major sports, is the annual Varsity "O" Dance at which a cup is awarded to the best dancing couple on the floor.

FIRST ROW: Danafria, Johnson, Malakas, Burezia, Rinta, F. B. Gullum, Don C. Peden, Lalich, Platzke, Schmid, Boehk, Carter, Wood.

SECOND ROW: Matheny, Wertman, Terrel, Urban, J. Rodgers, Chizek, Cheneck, Adamczyk, Rich, Ivory, Cunningham, L. Powell, Reis, N. Powell, A. H. Rhoads.

THIRD ROW: Jurkovic, Wilcox, Iwucz, Hirsimaki, Parker, W. Rodgers, Marcks, O. C. Bird, Olsen, Havrilla, White, Haaver, Carusa, Montgomery

DELTA PHI DELTA

The Old School of realistic artists has been relegated to the background as Delta Phi Delta, Ohio University's art fraternity, has swung to the band-wagon of the moderns. However, there are a few in the organization who still hold tight to the realistic interpretation. This has been a source of considerable friendly debate among the members and has even carried over to the faculty.

SITTING: Haffman, Whipple, E. M. Way, E. M. Woolf, Hopfinger. STANDING: Beery, Rathermel, I. M. Work, Crites, Patton, H. Willis, C. E. Bedford, Navarre, Perry

PHI TAU THETA

A Religious Conclave sponsored by Phi Tau Theta, Methodist Church fraternity, brought students and speakers from universities and colleges the country over to Athens where interesting discussions were held on religious and social problems. Editorials in many newspapers acclaimed the conclave's success. Regular discussions throughout the year on such problems as war and religion have held the members far into the night. The annual dance, at the Men's Union on February 18, was especially successful.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

In October, Bonnie Bingham, president of the Sigma Alpha Iota (national honorary music sorority), and Helen Louise Schmidt were delegates to the national convention at Detroit, Michigan. As a national inspector, Miss Gertrude Evans visited and inspected the local chapter, and was honored by a tea given by the women's Faculty Club. On the Friday before Christmas, eighteen members were up before dawn to sing carols to each of the three women's dormitories on the campus. Club rooms are in Music Hall.

Y. W. C. A. FIRST CABINET

The First Cabinet of the Y.W.C.A. is the supervising body of the largest women's organization on the campus. Members of this group are Y.W.C.A. girls who have shown thorough, steady interest and advancement in the activities of the Y. Sponsoring a large and varied program of service, guidance, and entertainment, campus-wide in its appeal, this body has built up an interest in and application of its projects unsurpassed by any other campus organization.

Y. W. C. A. SECOND CABINET

Working in conjunction with the cabinet in the extensive yearly program of the Y.W.C.A. is the sub-cabinet under the direction of the vice-president. Committee chairmen in this group work directly under the cabinet chairmen in the various fields of activity, with the ultimate goal in view of achievement of membership in the cabinet. In addition to its subordinate function, a supplementary program of its own is carried on by the body.

Y. W. C. A. THIRD CABINET

This year has marked the installation of a new sub-cabinet in the Y.W.C.A.—namely, the third cabinet. These twenty-four girls under the supervision and direction of Miss Klack have a triple aim guiding their activities: the sponsoring of international programs, the correlating of high school Girl Reserve and the college Y, and the extending of the organization's general welfare program through work with the charity ward of the hospital.

KAPPA ALPHA BETA

Alpha, the local chapter of Kappa Alpha Beta, holds meetings for its members who desire to increase their interest and knowledge in biology, and more particularly in botany. Members are enrolled in the College of Education and must have had at least 15 hours of biology with an average grade of "B". The fraternity was organized in 1930 in the Department of Botany at Ohio University. One other chapter has been established at Western Reserve in Cleveland.

Wheeler, Snider, M. T. Vermillion, Hitsky, A. W. Boetticher, Cariell, W. A. Matheny

PHI UPSILON OMICRON

Members of the Home Economics honorary Phi Upsilon Omicron were especially busy in December collecting scraps of cloth, string, ribbon, wrapping paper, cardboard, cellophane, yarn, boxes, spools and other waste materials from students of the Home Ec. Department. These were taken to the Athens County Children's Home where they were used in making Christmas gifts under the direction of members of Phi Upsilon.

Utterback, Tingle, Harshbarger, Burns, Kellagg, Wright, Graham, Greenaway,
Van Orsdall, Orville, Davis, Duncan

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Home Economics Students who are still hazy on the arts of sewing on a button, preparing an omelet, or other related accomplishments, have their problems solved in the monthly theoretical discussions of the Home Economics Club. Members of this group are responsible for contributions to their national publication, the "Aheo" (translation unknown), and for the signs "To the Ag Building" which dot the campus yearly when regional Home Economics Club meetings are held here.

KAPPA IOTA ALPHA

Ten hours of zoology, ten hours of chemistry, and a B average for all science courses are the exacting requirements for membership in Kappa Iota Alpha, honorary pre-medical fraternity. Special features of their year's program were two open meetings for the entire student body. Heated debates ensued on the pros and cons of socialized medicine. The budding physicians also viewed a motion picture illustrating the performance of a tonsillectomy.

A DAY: OUT OF THE LIVES OF WINIFRED HEALY AND RALPH MOHLER

The Athena photographer in the following series trails two typical students throughout a college day.

At ten of eleven Ralph and Winnie leave the library where they have been studying for the past hour. University students are expected to spend two hours of preparation each day for every credit hour carried. Few, however, carry out this suggestion.

ED AND CO-ED SERIES

7 o'clock: "Oh, how I hate to get up in the morning!"

8 o'clock: A hurried breakfast before dashing off to class.

9 o'clock: Ralph catches a few needed winks of sleep during a dry lecture.

10 o'clock: They seem undecided whether or not to brave the library.

11 o'clock: Ralph works his way through college via the mop.

12 o'clock: Time out to pretty up before lunch. Primping takes on average of two and one-half hours out of a co-ed's day.

1 o'clock: A hamburger or two and a coke make up Ralph's lunch.

2 o'clock: "Thank goodness, this is my last class today." P.M. classes and eight o'clocks are usually unwelcome.

3 o'clock: They meet for a short date on the library steps.

4 o'clock: Every afternoon during football season, Winnie goes down to the stadium to watch Ralph take the pigskin. He's a varsity halfback.

5 o'clock: Trainer Thor Olson bandages an injury that Ralph received during a strenuous practice

6 o'clock: Dinner at the dorm. Forty per cent of the women students at Ohio U. eat at dormitories.

7 o'clock: Winnie begins dressing early, in order to look her best for an eight o'clock date.

8 o'clock: What's this? An eight o'clock date and Ralph is just taking a shower! He says it's good psychology to keep a girl waiting.

9 o'clock: Confidential conversation over cakes at the corner confectionery.

10 o'clock: Winnie's day is drawing to a close. A quick look at some lecture notes, a short bull session, then off to bed.

ETA SIGMA PHI

Members of Eta Sigma Phi are unlike most people to whom hic, haec, hoc, huius, huius, huius, et cetera, are dim memories of a not so distant course in Latin. Members of this fraternity have had four years of high school Latin. They have received at least a "B" in college Latin or Greek. Having proved their sincere interest in classical languages, they become members of Gamma, the local chapter, and have the privilege of attending its monthly meetings.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

Since the advent of the popular "Bei Mir Bist Du Schan" we have expected the German Club to fuse with one of the campus music groups. At present, however, it still functions with the three Herrs from the German department who advise and participate in semi-monthly programs designed to give its members a well rounded view of the life and customs of contemporary Germany.

L'ALLIANCE FRANCAISE

Instruction and the furthering of France-American good will are the purposes of L'Alliance Francaise. Any intermediate or more advanced French student who can parlez-vous with "B" or greater ability may be asked to join if the club quota is not filled. The faculty, and occasionally the members, are able to interpret the monthly programs which are invariably conducted in French, and the truly intelligent and talented members of the group are responsible for the annual French play.

KAPPA PHI

Kappa Phi, the Methodist sorority, this year has contributed the usual number of eager pledges earning points around the church. Their attendance at all church affairs and their work, especially in the kitchen have been evidence of their desire to secure the necessary 150 points. Outstanding in Kappa Phi's program have been two Rose Teas where prospective members receive their first introduction to the group. Advised by Mrs. H. E. Benz, this group has been active throughout the year.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Wesley Foundation's varied program for Methodist Young people included meetings which were as helpful to the church as the general program was to the members themselves. Chairmen and chairwomen with their slightly unwilling committee members carefully scrubbed, pointed, and varnished the Foundation parlors. During the year, members tripped on rather clumsy footstools under the direction of "Parson" Boyliff, who presented "An Introduction to Folk Dancing". Restaurants suffered a slack Sunday business because of Mother Clark's famous suppers.

TRAPEZOID

Wings—soaring away to broaden the horizon of university women—have been the symbol of this year's program for Trapezoid. The group's clubroom has been the "happy landing place" for fellowship among girls of Presbyterian preference. A high tea given by the patronesses, some worthwhile speakers, a rose bouquet, and some significant discussions are all discovered among the 1938 Trapezoid memories.

PI EPSILON MU

The only honorary fraternity in the engineering department, Pi Epsilon Mu is a society open to outstanding men in the schools of Electrical or Civil Engineering. The aim of Pi Epsilon Mu is to promote and maintain the highest educational ideals and to foster fellowship and achievement in scholastic work. Work of a practical nature is taken up at their semi-monthly meetings to supplement the theoretical work of the classroom. At the conclusion of the school year an annual banquet is given.

DEBATE

Intercollegiate Debate for both men and women is the high spot on Ohio University's forensic program. Following several debates with various Ohio schools, Ohio U. took part in the Ohio Intercollegiate debate tourney this year and finished in second place. Freshman debate teams are maintained for those not eligible for the varsity debate squad. Another high light on the campus is the annual intramural debate sponsored by Tau Kappa Alpha. Delta Tau Delta won the men's intramural tournament, while Alpha Xi Delta took the women's I-M championship cup this year.

CHEMISTRY SOCIETY

To attain the latest knowledge on the newest developments in the field of chemical research is the aim of the Ohio University Chemistry Society, composed of students interested in chemistry as a vocation. Regular meetings are held the first and third Wednesday evenings of each month and are given over to group discussions, motion pictures, and faculty talks. Throughout the year, numerous outside lecturers are brought in to talk on both the industrial and the educational fields of chemistry.

SIGMA RHO

A press banquet is the annual highlight of Sigma Rho, local professional journalism fraternity for women. Sigma Rho is an organization for upper-class journalism majors, and its object is to promote a closer relation between prospective newspaper women at Ohio University. Joint meetings are held at frequent intervals throughout the year with Sigma Delta Chi. At these meetings talks are delivered by various well-known newspaper personalities famous in different phases of the profession.

Hull, Havis, Spademan, Silvers, Call, Anderson, N. R. Buchan, Steiner, Bornett, G. S. Lasher, McHale, Moneggie, Clough, Ballinger, Blair, Reed

TAU KAPPA ALPHA

Oratorical practice, sponsored by Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary speech fraternity, is one of the feature extra-curricular activities of Ohio University. Member of three state oratory associations, Ohio participates annually in both the State Oratorical Contest for Men and Women as well as the State Peace Contest. Both the Men's and the Women's Poetry Interpretation Contests are held each year. The annual extemporaneous speech contest and Deon Voigt's Prose Interpretation are also among the activities on the campus sponsored by this organization.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

The most unique dance on the campus is the Annual Press Cotillion given by Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity. The decorations for this dance reflect the inside of the editorial room in a newspaper office. To the meetings of this organization are brought, throughout the year, various well-known newspaper men who deliver talks to the members. Sigma Delta Chi is composed of men students majoring in journalism, and each year conducts an impressive initiation ceremony in the editorial rooms of the "Athens Messenger".

N. R. Buchan, G. S. Lasher, Gaitten, Vance, Thompson, Ryan, Wertman, Rogers, Kekich

PHI MU ALPHA

Of great interest to the entire campus in February was the excellent program of the University of Michigan's Little Symphony directed by Mr. Thor Johnson. Phi Mu Alpha, national music fraternity sponsored the orchestra's appearance here. Another project of the group was the interfraternity sing at Lindley Hall on Dad's Day in the fall. Each year an informal smoker is held by the group for those who are vitally interested in the field of music.

Roll, Brashares, Evans, Kerr, Dixon, D. W. Ingerham

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA

Fifty-five players and Director Ingerham combined into one great symphony of tone has furnished many evenings of enjoyment for Ohio University students and residents of Athens. When the Alumni Memorial Auditorium curtain goes up and the final strains of Tschaiakowsky's Fifth Symphony sing out, one experiences an aesthetic thrill that gives due credit to these talented musicians. The organization draws its members from those who have music as a vacation, avocation, and recreation.

KAPPA KAPPA PSI

At the campus gate last February toated eleven Kappa Kappa Psi pledges in a noon concert. Chasen as better spirited band members, pledges of the national band honorary goose-stepped to classes, prepared to receive the responsibility of future band dances and concerts at the Athena Theatre. Alpha Delta chapter, established here in 1932, holds meetings in Music Hall Annex where last year's members decorated a room in the organization's colors. Says president George Ross, "We have all the work of the band on our shoulders."

PSI CHI

Psi Chi, national psychology honorary fraternity, has as its yearly program the development of a central theme of psychological interest, and at each of the meetings one phase of this theme is discussed. In the center of this chattering group sits faculty adviser, Dr. James P. Porter, editor of the "Journal of Applied Psychology", who may be expressing the denial of the local popular opinion that psychologists are easy to fool.

KAPPA DELTA PI

In the era of mass higher education, learning still goes on; and its newer aspects and problems, which would frighten an old-time pedagogue, are the main discussion subjects at semi-monthly meetings of Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary. Faculty members are well represented in this group, and they, with students and outside speakers, contribute to the educational meetings. These meetings are combined with dinners and purely social evenings to form a well-integrated yearly program.

FIRST ROW: Cokanougher, O. T. Rhodes, E. E. Beechel, Reeser, Stevenson, Shelo. SECOND ROW: A. L. Eisen, Mumma, A. Bjornstad, Kimes, Moriarty, M. ## KINDERGARTEN-PRIMARY

As its name suggests, the Kindergarten-Primary Club has as its all-absorbing interest the understanding of the various phases of the problems of young children. Any girl in the Kindergarten-Primary department, as well as any faculty member in this field is eligible to membership and participation in the group. Since its establishment, interest in the club has so increased that it is now one of the largest departmental groups on the campus.

Athena Holds a Beauty Contest

AT SCHINE'S THEATER IN ATHENS

In contrast to previous years when the campus queens for the ATHENA were chosen by out-of-town people, the 1938 ATHENA beauty queens were selected in conjunction with a style show held at the Athena theater. Three judges and an interested large audience viewed the five winners from an entry list of 18 girls picked from the various campus sororities. The final decisions came after a two-night elimination process. Lois Wise, attractive Chi Omega, took first place among the five selected to appear in the 1938 ATHENA. Roger Dean acted as master of ceremonies, while Bill Cooper, representing the ATHENA, presented the first place silver loving cup to Miss Wise. Pictures of the selected five girls appear on the following page.

Acting as master of ceremonies, Roger Dean presented the candidates to the judges and audience.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

To promote co-operation instead of competition between the social fraternities on the campus is the aim of the Inter-Fraternity Council. The highlight on its program is the annual Inter-Fraternity Dance, open only to members of Greek groups. To encourage scholarship among its brothers, an award is made each year to the man making the highest grades. The Inter-Fraternity Council played a large part in this fall's homecoming celebration. Its hope for the future is to eliminate all forms of "Hell Week" and hazing for pledges.

BETA THETA PI: THEIR GROUP WAS THE FIRST T

The annual "dorg" is one of the Betas favorite traditions — reason, it means free beer. They had the largest pledge class on the campus this year, as well as the largest in their history. The lives of their pledges were made cheerier because they abolished boards. The award for the most unique homecoming float went to them for "catching Miami with her pants down." Unbeaten for five years is the enviable record of its Class A basketball team.

ABOLISH BOARDS . . . .

The new annex to the shelter, purchased to house an overflow of pledges and their first house mother, was the Delts' pride and joy this year. Count Basie satisfied their love for "Marie" by swinging it continuously for half an hour at their winter formal. For a good many years, the Delts have supplied a nucleus for the Varsity Basketball squad. This year was no exception; four out of the ten cagers were Delts.

The House on the Hocking has long been the Phi Delts' title because of the sweeping river view it commands from its high perch on the hill. They placed two shiny new cups on their montle this year—one for intramural football, the other for bowling. Outstanding were their Sunday afternoon teas every month in honor of the various sororities. The Phi Delts are the only fraternity who nome their pledges, they coll them Phikeios.

The distinction of having the only fraternity house located on sorority row goes to the Pi K A's. New green carpeting set the keynote for its redecoration. A huge model of their pin, complete in every detail even to electric lights for its bordering of pearls, lit up the street at Homecoming. # PHI MU: PRESENTED THE LIBRARY SITUATION

This year's Greek-moving shake-up found the Phi Mus leaving the wide open spaces of State Street and becoming more conveniently housed in their new College Street location. The audience of this year's Prep Follies will get many chuckles when it remembers the Phi Mus' skit—an exceptionally realistic take-off on the all-important campus problem, the library situation. ## COACHES: THIS NINE-MAN STAFF IS RESPONSIBLE FOR OHIO UNIVERSITY'S ATHLETIC SUCCESS

The athletic success of Ohio University's various teams is due in a large measure to the excellent staff of coaches in charge of the different Bobcat teams. Heading the Athletic Staff is "Doc" Bird, who hails from Oberlin College. In addition to directing all inter-collegiate athletics, Bird also acts as the varsity tennis coach. Don Peden, a product of the University of Illinois, has won seven Conference titles for Ohio in his thirteen years as football and baseball coach. Capably assisting Peden on the gridiron is "Dutch" Trautwein, who also conducts the intramural sports. An official position on the National Basketball Rules Committee is held by "Butch" Grover, Bobcat coge mentor who has had fine success with Ohio basketball teams, placing high in every league race and turning out some of the best hoop men in the nation. Bill Herbert, a product of Ohio University, is at the helm of the track team and is assisted by Joe Trepp, a graduate from Harvard. Taking the place of Jerry Hughes who went to Syracuse this fall is Jack Rhoads, coach of the swimming team. The Bobcatfish, handicapped by a small pool, placed high in the Conference swimming meet last year. Thor Olson, ex-champion wrestler, is in charge of the Ohio matmen, while Carl Nessley rounds out the coaching department.

FOOTBALL: DAYTON SMASHED OHIO UNIVERSITY'S EIGHT YEAR

ON PEDEN AND "DUTCH" TRAUTWEIN DISCUSS STRATEGIC PLANS FOR THE SEASON WITH THE BOBCAT GRIDDERS

Cooch Don Peden seemingly had little to worry about in regard to this year's gridiron eleven as but eight men were graduated from the large 1936 football squad. But bad luck began to dog Peden's thirteenth edition of the Bobcats from the outset as injuries took two potential starting backfield men. Johnny Chernitski was hurt in pre-season practice, being forced to retire from the game, and Len "Light Horse" Joniak received a broken leg in the third game of the season. One of the toughest schedules in the history of the school loomed up in front of the Bobcats. Forced to face such strong elevens as Illinois, Western Reserve, and Rutgers, the Bobcats also were faced with the responsibility of defending the co-championship of the BAA which they had won the year previous. Ohio University, despite these difficulties, finished its grid season successfully, dropping but three games and winning every contest in November to end up in a strong third place in the Buckeye Conference race. Although losing but one loop encounter the Bobcats were forced to relinquish their BAA laurels to Morsholl who finished the season without a defeat.

FRONT ROW: "Dutch" Troutwein, Brown (36), Burke (9), Mruzik (18), Plotzke (26), Caruso (23), Wilcox (21), Adamczyk (25), Poulk (5), Wertmon (19), Chenek (46), Parker (73), Trudeau (17), Terrel, Marcks (21), Mohler (11), Jurkovic (head showing), Montgomery, Smith, Sentic, Loskin, and Cooch Peden.

BACK ROW: Iwucz (12), Donofrio (40), Ivory (29), Hunter (72), Carter (37), Clougas (25), Wood (41), Chizek (30), Stapleton (71), Nolfi (66), Pestel (48), Burazia (53), Crabtree (42).

UNDEFEATED STADIUM RECORD IN FIVE SECONDS

WINNING SCORE COMES IN LAST PLAY OF THE GAME

With the game almost certain to end in a scoreless tie after both Dayton and Ohio had battled without scoring throughout the greater part of the game, Dayton took the ball on the 30-yard line. At this point, Bob Reidel, substitute halfback, faded back and threw a pass to Jack Padley, fleet sophomore back, who caught the ball and crossed the goal line just as the gun cracked ending the game.

FOOTBALL (CONTINUED)

Steamralling over Rio Grand College, Ohio featured a 12-touchdown parade in winning by a 80-0 count. The Bobcats started a veteran team camposed af Wilcox, Adamczyk, Donofria, Mruzik, Iwucz, Rodgers, and Platzke on the line, and Jurkavic, Mantgomery, Janiak, and Mohler in the backfield. Displaying nothing but straight football, the Bobcats scored almast at will over the helpless Redmen, and, in addition, flashed several new stars. Seeking to repeat its upset victory of 1935, Ohio U. traveled to Illinois the following Saturday only to be outclassed by the Illini and come out on the shart side of a 20-6 score. The Bobcat's score came as the result af a pass to Terrel, substitute end in the second quarter. Illinois touchdowns came on two running plays and a pass. The Bobcats air attack was the sale effective offensive weapon for them. The fighting Bobcats next invaded Cleveland in an effort to snap Western Reserve's 25-game winning streak—and they almost did JUST that, outplaying the Red Cats in every department except the pay-off one—the actual score. Reserve plunged over fram the one-foot line to win the contest 7-0.

Showing flashes of its 1935 unbeaten-untied team form, Ohio passed its way to a 19-0 win over Miami in the Homecoming game. The Bobcats scored two touchdowns in the first five minutes of play. The famous stadium record was smashed into smithereens as Dayton did in five seconds what no other team could do in eight years—defeat Ohio U. in its home stadium. After battling on even terms for the greater majority of the game, the Dayton Flyers completed an end-zone pass on the last play of the game to give them a 6-0 win. Ohio threatened twice in the first quarter but its attack bogged down within the shadow of the goal posts. Dayton's story-book finish was a heart-breaking loss to Ohio University fans. Ohio rolled greatly from the results of its defeat at the hands of Dayton and held Marshall to a 13-13 tie at Huntington. Montgomery's 90-yard runback of a punt for an Ohio touchdown featured the game, which saw Ohio's last hope of sharing in the BAA championship fade, as the Bobcats needed a victory to stay in the race. A good defensive type of play enabled the Bobcats to hold the highly favored Marshall eleven to a deadlock.

Encouraged by their showing against Marshall, the Bobcats went on to win the three remaining games on their schedule. They topped Cincinnati easily by a score of 17-0, and pulled a mild surprise in the east by winning from Rutgers, 13-0. Ohio U. ended its season with a 20-6 win over Ohio Wesleyan in the Dad's Day feature attraction. Ohio had a splendid football squad at the beginning of the season—one that might easily have gone undefeated. But injuries that crippled the Green and White backfield, and a series of unfortunate breaks in several games sent the Bobcats down to three defeats and one tie. Thus Ohio U. was forced to the sidelines in the race for the Buckeye Conference title it held for two consecutive years.

Seven men were graduated from the 1937 gridiron machine, namely: Bill Jurkovic, Geo. Boehk, Melvin Platzke, Andy Mruzik, Danny Donofrio, Denver Wood, and Stan Caruso.

FIRST ROW: Rinto, Molakos, Hood, and Grothous. SECOND ROW: Coach Grover, Hordman, Rogers, Paulus, Blair, Peoples, Lolich, and Foley

The first loss on its home floor in two years was suffered this season when the Ohio University cagers dropper a close 22-21 decision to Marshall College, winners of the Buckeye Conference championship. Although as a whole the Bobcat quintet was not up to last year's par, they, nevertheless, enjoyed a successful season, finishing with an average of .600 by virtue of winning 12 of the 20 games on the schedule. Ohio also tied for second place in the BAA with Miami. An even break in the Buckeye Conference race enabled the Bobcats to finish in the first division of that loop, while Nick Lolich captured third place in the league's individual scoring race. In non-conference play, Ohio lost but three games, one each to Ohio State, Morietto, and Xavier, while their brightest victories were hung up at the expense of Toledo and Case. The Green and White scored 797 points during the season, against their opponents 734 points.

The famous "Big Four" is no more. For three years as varsity players, and one season as freshmen, this combination of John Malokas, Nick Lalich, Gene Rinta, and George Hood, have played together. Their collegiate career began when they played frosh basketball during the winter of 1934-35. During the 1936-37 season they played on the team which shared the Buckeye championship with Marshall. That team was rated by Coach Grover as the greatest one he had ever coached in his 18 years at Ohio University.

TRACK: OHIO'S TRACKMEN HAD A VERY MEDIOCRE SEASON

FINISHED THIRD IN THE BUCKEYE CONFERENCE

Jim Johnson took the only first for the Bobcat thinclads when he tossed the discus farther than any of the other entrants.

Ohio's track squad under the tutelage of Coach Bill Herbert finished third in the annual Buckeye Track meet held at Delaware last spring. Although the Bobcat cindermen took but one first, in the discus, Ohio men placed in all events in which men were entered. Both Miami and Ohio Wesleyan, winner and runner-up, had too many stars for the better balanced Ohio U. squad. Jim Johnson became Ohio's only Buckeye champ as he threw the discus 132 feet, 7 inches. Al Schmidt and Ken Cunningham in the quarter and half-mile respectively also showed well for the Bobcat thinclads. Cunningham's defeat in the quarter mile during the BAA meet marked the first time that Ken had been beaten in this event in college competition. In dual meets, the Herbert-men finished with a .500 average, winning from West Virginia and Cincinnati, while dropping meets to Ohio Wesleyan and Miami. The Miami meet was run in a mire of mud.

vaulter Eli Hirsimaki, who is being counted on to fill Ohio's previous weak spot in that event.

CROSS-COUNTRY REVIVED

Cross-country was revived last fall after a lapse of eight years. It is the hope of track coaches to continue this sport each fall, as cross-country running is beneficial in the development of varsity track distance runners. Last year the hill-and-dalers participated in but two intercollegiate meets, losing them both, one each to Miami and Ohio Wesleyan. Earl Hicks was the mainstay of the Bobcat cross-country team.

The cause of the decline of the track team in the past two years can probably be attributed to the loss through graduation of such individual stars as Paul Halleck, in the shot put and discus; Jim Gilmore, who held the BAA record in the mile and two mile runs; and Armbrust, star in the 100 and 200-yard sprints. In the discus throw, Halleck missed going to the last Olympics by a margin of five inches. Since that time Ohio has been weak in the sprints, pole vault, and distance runs, but the Bobcats hope to remedy these weaknesses within two years, and by the summer of 1939 should be in the thick of the Buckeye Conference race.

center Jim Johnson demonstrates the form that won for him the Buckeye discus championship. At the right is Powell, a Bobcat distance runner

BASEBALL: OHIO EASILY WINS THE B.A.A. TITLE

The 1937 baseball nine ranked as probably the greatest team in Ohio U. history. Playing a tough, 24-game schedule the pedenmen came through with 21 wins against some of the toughest collegiate competition in the country. The Bobcat nine was the first baseball squad ever to go through a Buckeye schedule without a defeat, having the pennant cinched before the final game with Marshall was played. In addition to the ten games taken from BAA faes, Ohio won over such teams as Ohio State, Oberlin, and Marietta, plus winning all six games on the southern training trip preceding the regular schedule. The three losses suffered were at the hands of Michigan State and West Virginia University twice.

Tony Reis, Ohio's star hurler, chalked up eight wins in the Buckeye and had a season record of 10 wins and one loss. Opponents were allowed an earned run average of 1.7 per nine innings off Tony during the season. In addition to Reis' fine twirling the Bobcats also were aided by the fine performances of "Haaky" Burazia, who won 5 and lost one. Burazio dropped a game to West Virginia while Reis' single loss was a heart-breaking 4-3 decision to a great Michigan State nine. The Bobcat sluggers, led by Woody Wills, star catcher, hit the ball at a blistering clip all through the season and gave the Green and White a sensational team batting average of .328. Woody Wills ended the season with a mark of .411 to lead the Bobcat hitters, while Johnny Malakos, stellar second baseman, hit the ball for a .347 average to take second place

Sitting in the O. U. dugout are: Chenek, Gruber, Havrilla, Burazio, Gander, Diehl, Olson, Allen, Frey, Luebbers, Swaykus, Boehk, Peer, Wills, Reis, and Manager Farrell. Kneeling on "deck" awaiting his turn at bat is Malokas, with Jurkovic, next in line, standing.

One grave mishap crept into the record of the Ohio basebollers last season. Returning home after the slaughter administered to Dayton, the car containing a group of players and driven by Coach Dan Peden was stopped at a small town not far from Columbus, and Coach Peden was hauled into court on the charges of speeding—the fine being nine dollars plus cost. Woody Wills and Hal Gruber, slugging catcher and brilliant shortstop respectively, at the termination of the season both signed contracts with the New York Giants and were immediately farmed out to a Giant minor league team. Both players were key men in the Ohio baseball machine and received the attention of numerous major league scouts.

Bill Jurkovic is shown in the lower photo just after he had connected with the ball for an extra-base hit. "Jurk's" hitting last season was one of the main reasons for the successful play of the Bobcats.

MINOR SPORTS: MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN IN THESE EVENTS

Rained out in several of its matches, the Ohio tennis team played a limited schedule, but finished up in a triple tie with Ohio Wesleyan and Miami for the Buckeye Conference net title. Jimmy Raach, senior netter, was the star of the Bobcat team, playing the number one position. But one dual meet was dropped, that a 4-2 decision to Wittenberg.

Swonick, Raach, Coach Bird, Marris, and Steinhauer

Under the direction of a new coach, A. H. Rhoads, the Ohio swimming team won three of its eleven meets. This is a good record, considering the fact that the Bobcats have a pool too small for adequate practice. The Ohio mermen won two of the three meets held in their "fish-bowl". The high-spot of the season was the annual trip to Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, during the Christmas vacation.

IN THE POOL: Houf, Tedrick, Hague, VanOrne. STANDING: Senior Manager Reid, Olson, Lontz, Miller, Shafer, Zaworski, Ludwinski, Wiedenman, Compton, Horton, Fiedler, Evans, Sophomore Manager Stilgenbauer, Wright. SITTING: Roebke, Coach Rhoads, and Beiser

Handicapped by the mid-semester ineligibility of heavyweight Chester Adamczyk and 155-pounder John Sintic, the Bobcat wrestling team finished the season with but two wins out of a schedule of seven matches against some of the best collegiate competition in the country. The two match victories were over Cincinnati and Case, last year's tri-state champs. Losses included such teams as Cornell, Ohio State, and Michigan. Besides the two grapplers mentioned above, Parozynski and DeTuerk were standouts.

FIRST ROW: Clausius and Lewondowski wrestling, Sepe-towski, Sugar, Roth, and Ralston. BACK ROW: Coach Olson, Sintic, Burke, Aiello, DeTuerk, Hartman, and Puzzo

INTRAMURALS: SIGMA PI FRATERNITY TOOK THE YEARLY TROPHY...

Last year Sigma Pi fraternity won the intramural trophy for the most points recorded in intramural sports for the year. In addition to placing in every sport, the Sigs came out on top in baseball, outdoor and indoor track, tennis, Class "C" basketball, and paddle tennis. The baseball win marked the second consecutive year that the Sigs had taken that award.

Bob Thomo of the Sigma Pi I-M tennis team is seen at the net posed ready to drive one across at a "killing" rate of speed. His partner is seen in the background.

A reduced program features the intramural sports set-up at Ohio University this year. But four sports, namely, football, basketball, bowling, and baseball count toward the winning of the intramural trophy. Last spring the duo of Thoma and Shingleton took the tennis cup for the Sigs, while the Sig Pi baseball nine went through the season with only one defeat to cap the softball title, winning over the Delts in the final game of the season. Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Pi finished the outdoor track season in a dead heat, but the Sigs took the indoor meet with little difficulty. Phi Epsilon Pi won the handball trophy easily. This fall Phi Delta Theta won the I-M football championship after a hectic overtime game with the Betas, who had won the right to play the Phi Delts by another overtime victory over the Sigs. The Phi Delts also came through victorious in the bowling tournament, edging out the Sigma Pi team in three close games. Delta Tau Delta proved themselves the class of the pledge basketball teams when they easily won the championship by trimming the Theta Chi five in the league play-offs. Pi Kappa Alpha won the Class "A" basketball title, defeating Beta Theta Pi in the league play-offs. The Beta defeat was the first time in seven years that they failed to win the cage championship in that class.

Jerry Blair, Phi Delt, is shown in his famous bowling form ready to roll one down the alley in an Ohio University I-M bowling match. The Phi Delts won the bowling championship.

"Baldy" Frank Fribley is shown at bat with Bill Stitsinger "on deck" in an I-M softball game between Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Pi, the Sigs finally winning the contest.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS: A DIVERSIFIED PROGRAM IS OFFERED

C. Spencer, Mary E. Whitney, Alma Brown, Sarah Hatcher, Chorlotte La Tourrette

The women's athletic life at Ohio University is well provided for at the Women's Gymnasium under the supervision of five faculty coaches. Miss Hatcher is the associate professor of Physical Welfare and also is sponsor for the WAA (Women's Athletic Association). Miss Spencer is in charge of swimming, while Miss LaTourrette conducts the scouting and sports activities. Miss Whitney is in charge of the classes in modern dance, and Miss Brown acts as sorority intramural director, and also is in charge of adopted activities. Leona Paltrowitz has a graduate fellowship in women's sports, and Freda Simerka is a student assistant in the fencing class.

Women students at Ohio University have an opportunity to participate in a wide variety of sports among which are fencing, badminton, deck tennis, tennis, pingpong, volleyball, shuffleboard, basketball, hockey, soccer, rifle-ry, swimming, archery, baseball, and other adapted activities. Intercollegiate contests are also held from time to time. Ohio annually has a good girls' swimming team, and this fall teams from Ohio State and Cincinnati took part in a playball match at Athens. A wide intramural program is also offered for the co-eds at Ohio. This fall the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority won the intramural basketball championship. The WAA puts on an annual carnival dance on Homecoming Day, and this year inaugurated an annual Folk Dance. The dance group was also represented at the Midwest Dancing Convention held in Chicago last month. The annual Playday was held at Ohio University last month with 35 schools being present.

STUDENT CENTER PROPOSED

Sir:

One of the most cheerful announcements ever to be made in the history of Ohio University was that proposing a student lounge. To raise money for this project was the inspiration of this huge thermometer seen here. Recently, an entire student union building to take care of the general student social and extra-curricular life has been proposed, and it is hoped that this project will go through without delay.

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST

Sir:

With the idea in mind of emphasizing that students on the campus of Ohio University are getting tired of having beauty queens selected in wholesale lots, something new was tried this year when the homeliest dog on the campus was selected at the Schine's Atheno Theatre. Sigma Pi fraternity was able to produce the ugliest canine.

ATHENA'S PICTURES

Harold Wolchonok and Barbora Frolich, photographers for the 1938 ATHENA are shown in the ATHENA dark-room making enlargements. Wolchonok's knowledge of handling miniature cameras and negatives is largely responsible for the pictorial success of this book. He hopes to open a studio of his own in the near future. Frolich, took the pictures of the faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences. She spends her summers working in a Morion studio.

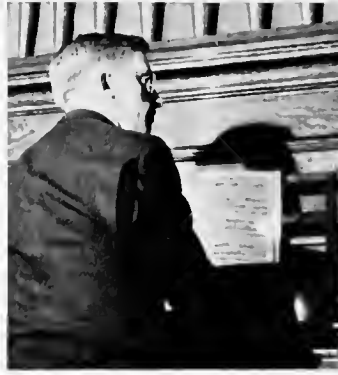

Norman Kuegler, who will be the first student of Ohio University to graduate with a major in photography, contributed many fine photographs to the book. He took the basketball action pictures and covered the Atheno's Beauty Contest.

E. Rexford Koons, campus maestro, is Athens' foremost swing exponent. Leading his own orchestra from a sax position, Rex, whose band took local popularity honors, is a history major at heart. Will probably give up the sax to teach school.

William Benkert, ATHENA sports editor, keeps the most extensive sports file on the campus. Benkert is assistant sports editor of the GREEN AND WHITE, lived in Greenville, where the treaty opening of the Northwest Territory was signed.

Walter Kinney, music expert, spends his odd moments in composition. Pipe-smoker Kinney's unusual musical arrangement for the Prep Fallies was well received, as is his Ohioan music review column.

Ernest C. Pritts, university night watchman, has an eye for figures—mathematical, not feminine. Pritts estimates that he walks 15 miles every night, goes up and down 5,559 steps, checks 2,191 windows and 153 doors.

Dana Kelly, instructor in journalism and assistant in the University News Bureau, is one of the faculty's youngest members. Boasting his Master of Arts degree from Michigan, Kelly is a dapper dresser, likes cakes and table tennis.

Del Schmidt and Robert Young, roommates, indexed the 1938 ATHENA. Schmidt was formerly time-keeper for a Newark glass firm. Young supplemented his tedious task of indexing by writing letters and checking up on pentathalon men.

"Doc" Kinney, Men's Union custodian, likes campus publication staffs despite the extra work they cause. Congenial dictator of Union dust, "Doc" was kept unusually busy cleaning up the aftermath of long nights of picture mounting for the ATHENA.
